About the Girl Scout Cookie Rally

What is it?
A Cookie Rally is a pre-season kickoff event that gives Girl Scouts and volunteers an opportunity to brush up on everything that goes into cookie season. It provides lessons on goal setting, and prepares new and returning Girl Scouts (and their caregivers) to engage the community, work together, and gain transparency around topics like recognition items, promotion strategies, and seller resources. Think of it as a pep rally, practice run, training camp, and celebration all in one.

What happens?
Just like cookie season itself, a rally is meant to be led by girls—but supported by councils, parents, and volunteers. Girls will travel from booth to booth engaging in different activities designed to help them play an active (and age appropriate) role in their personal cookie selling journey.

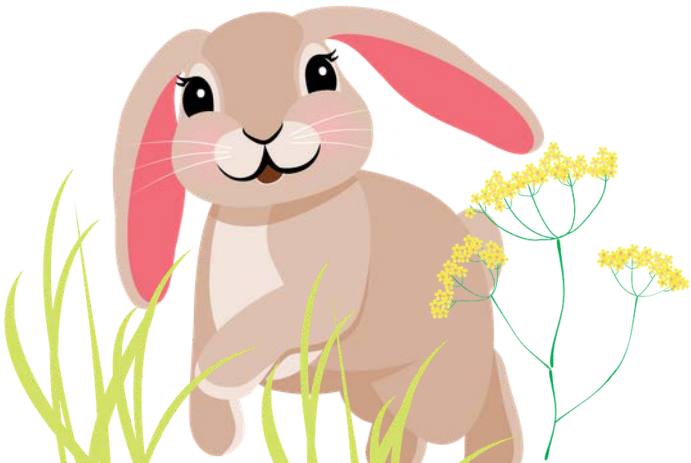

Who should attend?
Rallies aren't just for Girl Scouts. It's also important that troop volunteers and parents attend so they can show support, understand what to expect from cookie season, and take lessons home with them.

Why is it important?
A cookie rally provides important introductions for first-time cookie program participants and important updates for returning Girl Scouts participating in this cookie season, designed to help them build on their skills from previous years.

When should it be held?
Rallies are normally held two weeks prior to the beginning of your council's cookie season. This allows troops, girls, and parents enough time to gear up for the season and get everything in order ahead of time.

How do I prepare?
In addition to following the steps in this guide, don't forget to set a budget, pick a date and location, promote your event to troop leaders and parents, and register attendees.

Meet your new BFF

Use these Lop-Eared Rabbit fun facts to kick off your cookie rally! Will you turn them into a game? How about a package of cookies as a prize for whoever gets the most correct!

Even though their ears hang down, they still have excellent hearing and can pick up a wide range of sounds.

Many lop-eared rabbits have incredibly soft coats that make them extra cuddly.

Rabbits sleep a lot—sometimes up to 8–12 hours a day—but are most active at dawn and dusk.

Lop rabbits can learn routines, recognize their names, and even be trained to use a litter box.

They love hay, leafy greens, and the occasional treat like carrots or fruit.

They enjoy companionship and can form close bonds with humans or other rabbits.

Product Knowledge

Allergen Memory Game

Submitted by Gretchen, from Girl Scouts of Central Texas.
Print out pages 18-35 to help Girl Scouts become more knowledgeable about allergens. This will help Girl Scouts better explain products to customers impacted by allergens.

Taste Testing!

Invite Girl Scouts to taste all of the Girl Scout Cookies. As they are tasting, have them write down their own descriptions of the cookies to use as a sales pitch or catchy jingle. They can also rank their favorites when tasting, see which cookie is the favorite amongst your troop(s)!

Be aware of any food allergies before completing this activity!

Goal Setting

Goal Charts

Print out copies of the goal chart on pages 36-38 for Girl Scouts to discuss their goals with each other.

Get crafty with goal setting!

Have some elastic string, beads, and numbered beads setup at this station. Once the Girl Scout decides what her goal is for the 2027 season, let her make a bracelet to wear. This bracelet will be constant motivation for her all season long. Buy some beads that go along with this year's theme, greens, pinks, and bunnies!

Put a friendship spin on it, and let the Girl Scouts in your troop make the goal bracelets for each other. They can add these motivational bracelets to their friendship bracelet stack and it will make for great team building!

Money Management

Play a counting game!
Use dice to play different counting scenarios. The dice number rolled can represent how many boxes of cookies to total up.
Add in a challenge for the older girls! Have some pretend money to hand them once they have calculated the total, that will create the need for change to be handed back to you, the pretend customer.

Budget your troop proceeds
Once Girl Scouts come up with their cookie goal, have them combine their goals for a total troop goal. From there, they can estimate what their troop earnings goal will be. How will they manage those earnings?
This discussion prompt can also work towards decision making skills!

Decision Making

Booth Strategy

The cookie rally is a great opportunity for Girl Scouts to learn to make decisions individually or as a team. Set up a station to let girls decide how they want to market their cookie business. Do they think booth posters will help them reach their goals? Or, if age appropriate, do they think a fun online sales video would be best?

Badges + Pins

Use this station as an opportunity for Girl Scouts to review the Entrepreneurship Badges & Pins on the following page. Have hard copies on hand of the Badge Booklets available in the Girl Scout Shop to review with Girl Scouts at this station. This is a great opportunity to decide how they will achieve these through the cookie program this year!

People Skills

Setup a mock booth

Have Girls Scouts take turns as the customer and as the seller. Let adult and teen volunteers take turns as well and present challenging situations to younger Girl Scouts. Bring props to use as cookie boxes if you don't have any cookie boxes around and some fake money.

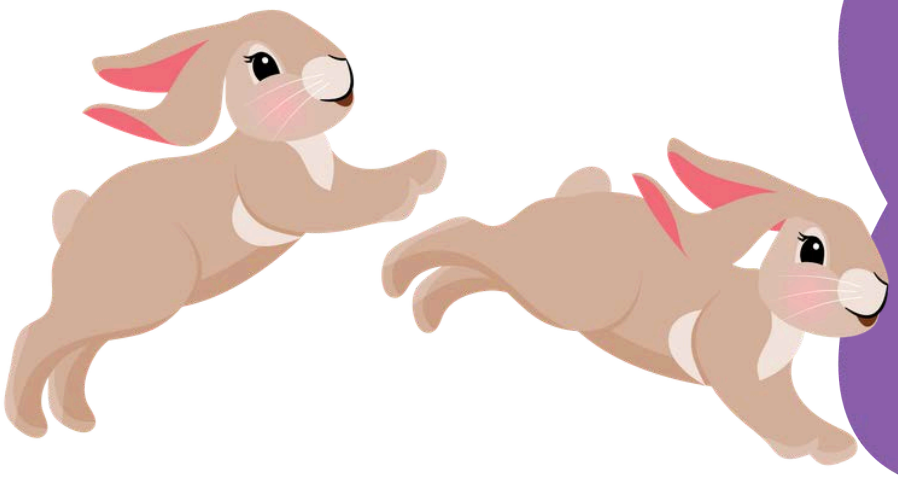

Cookie Sales Pitch

Challenge Girl Scouts to come up with an elevator sales pitch. Remind them to keep it short and sweet, to win over the customers. This exercise encourages girls to embrace their business, so your troop can have its best cookie season yet!

Sweet send off

Close out the rally

Wrap up the rally fun with some sweet Girl Scout Cookie treats.

You can keep the rally energy going by sending Girl Scouts home with copies of pages 39-42. These can be colored at home to continue the excitement of their cookie entrepreneurship that is kicking off in 2027!
