

Girl Scouts are united by faith.

“The motivating force in Girl Scouting is spiritual.”

— Preamble, Constitution of Girl Scouts of the USA

Since its founding in 1912, Girl Scouts has enjoyed partnerships with religious organizations. Together we have enriched the spiritual lives of Girl Scout members, each of whom strives from the perspective of their own personal belief to live up to the Girl Scout Promise and Law.

Many religious organizations develop and administer religious award programs especially for Girl Scouts. Because of this powerful relationship, Girl Scouts have become stronger members of their own faith, and girls from every faith have felt welcome in Girl Scouting.

The perfect opportunity for girls to earn their My Promise, My Faith Award is through a troop that meets at their place of worship. We are searching for caring adults like you to lead and mentor a great group of girls. Help us to promote strong values, leadership and service in your community!

For more information about joining Girl Scouts, the faith-based awards, or volunteering, contact us at 775-322-0642, girlscoutshelp@gssn.org, or visit our website at www.gssn.org/faith.

